MANY SEE HOSPITAL

Reception Followed by a Banquet in the Evening at Elks Hall.

The new River Side Hospital was thrown open to the public on Thursday afternoon and a large number of people took advantage of the opportunity to visit the institution and see for themselves what had been done down there. This was in spite of the fact that the weather was excessively stormy and it was a bad day for anybody to be out, and visitors who were not supplied with a rig were precluded from getting to the institution at all.

The reception committee consisted of Rev. A. J. Purman, Rev. Mellicke, Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Humphrey, Mrs. John McConn, Mrs. Jas. McCarthy, Mrs. Arms, Mrs. H. Abel, Mrs. E. H. Stoddard and Mrs. Gus Kruger. This committee took care of the crowd in good shape and everybody was shown about the building and served with light refreshments. General surprise was expressed by the visitors at the niceness of the place, the handiness of the arrangement, and the ideal situation of the institution. While the place does not show up to great advantage at this time of the year, the view and location is most happy for the summer months. The severity of Wisconsin winters makes it count for little where a place is located at times like we have been experiencing during the past few weeks.

The building is 30x40 feet, and it is two stories high with a garage and basement so finished as to be of practical use in the operation of the place. The basement contains the heating plant, wood room, laundry, kitchen and dining room, and very handily arranged. The first and second floors are arranged for the hospital proper, containing reception rooms, bed rooms, of the more important steps that have been taken within the time since medicine has become a science instead of a black art, but he handled the subject in a masterly manner and the only regret of those present was that he did not hold the floor longer. "The Hospital" was the subject of Rev. Putnam's response and he paid the new institution a touching tribute and gave his best word for its success.

"The Value of a Trip Abroad" was given to Dr. Humphrey, and that gentleman responded with a short sketch of the things to be gained by a physician and surgeon from one of our small cities visiting some of the great hospitals of the old country.

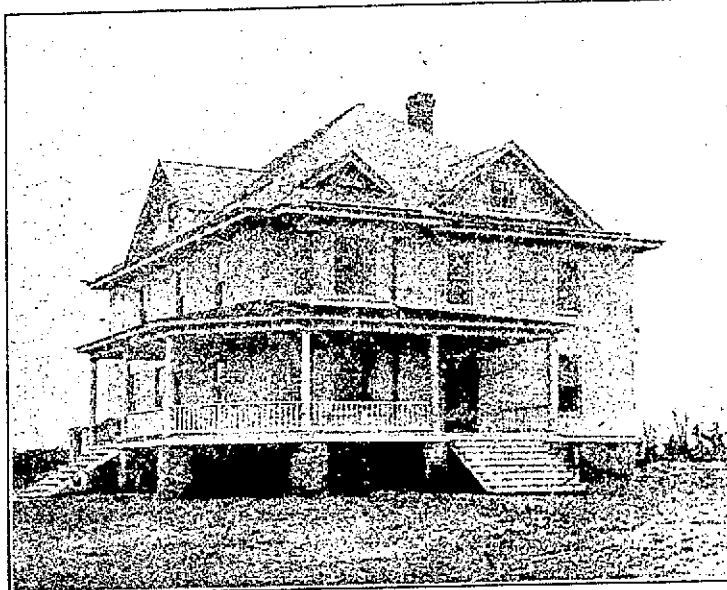

The subject of Dr. Rockwell's response was "Character is More Valuable than the Tools We Possess". The doctor stated that in his opinion the title expressed all there was to say on the subject, but from the way he enlarged on the subject it was evident that there was much of interest in the matter.

Dr. Boorman responded with a solo entitled "Appendicitis". It was quite a humorous selection and stirred the occasion so nicely that those present would not let him escape without another selection, which he rendered to the satisfaction of all.

"Encouraging Signs" was responded to by Dr. Rickman. The doctor has quite a reputation as an optimist, and he handled the subject in the happy manner which is so characteristic of his make-up.

"Patients and Patients" was the subject assigned to Dr. W. S. Wilcox of Wild Rose. This gentleman gave a very good talk on the subject and told how the two words were interwoven in every branch of the doctor's life.

Prof. M. H. Jackson was assigned "The Ladies" and he handled them in a very delicate but humorous manner. For fun and bright sayings the professor probably outdid all of the others present, and his toast was enjoyed by all and elicited great applause.

RIVER VIEW HOSPITAL.

operating rooms and hospital rooms with all the appliances necessary to a first class institution of this sort. The hospital is not under the domination of any sect and is open to any of the physicians of this city either to practice or bring patients, and when a patient is taken to the place he will be under the care of whatever physician he may choose. In this respect it is different from most institutions of this sort, for as a general thing they are run by some religious organization, which generally prejudices certain people against the use of them. The cost of the hospital as it now stands is about $4,000.

Dr. R. Evans, the proprietor of the new hospital, is a man whom it is a pleasure to meet, and if the place is not a success it will not be because of any lack of proper spirit on his part. The people of Grand Rapids, and the medical profession especially, are confident that the establishment of this hospital will fill a long felt want and while they do not expect that it will prove a great financial success, they feel that it is a good thing for the town.

In the evening a banquet was served at the Elks hall. This banquet was furnished by the doctors of Grand Rapids and these with the invited guests made up about one hundred in number. The banquet was a success in every respect. It was served by the ladies of the Episcopal church, and the good things they set forth were all that could be desired by the most exacting. As a social event it was a pronounced success. Everybody present seemed to be in just the right spirit to enjoy an occasion of this sort, and they proceeded to enjoy it.

Dr. Houghton acted as toastmaster, and it is evident that he was out for just this sort of a job. He did not miss an occasion to make a humorous hit, and every address was properly introduced and shown that they were appreciated.

Mayor L. M. Nash made the first response, his subject being "The City and its Institutions." He spoke of some of the advantages of the city and of the institutions of the town, both from an educational and industrial standpoint, and ended by saying a few words which heartily endorsed the new hospital and numbered it among the most advantageous of our public enterprises.

The subject of Dr. Waters' response was "Medical Progress." In the length of a talk which could be given at a place of this kind it was only possible to touch very briefly on some joyed by all and elicited great applause. "The Noblest Profession of All," was assigned to Attorney W. J. Conway, Rev. B. Hugenroth and Dr. S. M. Kyes. Mr. Conway said so many nice things about the lawyers that a few minutes it really seemed as if he might be telling facts and that there was some truth in the matter, but of course on sober second thought everybody realized that it would be impossible to say anything of merit about a lawyer, and tell the truth. Then Dr. Kyes took up the physician's side of the question and of course everybody realized at once that the doctor had the noblest profession of all.

Rev. Hugenroth could not be present, so those present were unable to hear that side of the story. "The Attitude of the Physician to the Patient" was assigned to Dr. Loebe. The doctor first explained that he was not able to make a speech, but said his wife had kindly fixed up a few remarks for him to read to those assembled. Later when he got stuck on some of his notes he explained that his wife was a very poor writer. This might go all right with some professions, but doctors are such proverbially bad writers, that it was suspected by those present that he had been magnifying his better half.

Miss Eva Cahill rendered a very pretty soprano solo, which was greatly appreciated by those present, and only escaped from giving another selection from the fact that it was drawing toward midnight and there were still a number of toasts to be responded to.

Attorney B. R. Goggins was assigned as his subject "Medical Experts I Have Met." He gave a very interesting talk of some length which was instructive with enough humor interwoven to make it one of the best talks of the evening.

Dr. Bellin was assigned "The Doctor's Wife" as his subject, and considering that the doctors experience in matrimony has been limited to hearsay up to date, he did very well. It was kind of a mean trick to saddle so serious a subject onto one without any experience in the matter, but it is probable that Doc will be able to speak with more confidence on the subject a few years hence.

A LURID SESSION.

Stockholders of the Electric and Water Co. Discuss Business Matters.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Electric and Water company was held on Wednesday night and there was a pretty good crowd out, there being fully two thirds of the stock of the company represented either in person or by proxy. Everybody present seemed to have a chip on his shoulder and every other person seemed to be adding to knock it off. Wednesday was the third attempt that had been made to hold the meeting. The first time the secretary had not had his report ready, the second time there was not a majority of the stock present but when the meeting was called to order the third time it was found that there was a good majority and some to spare. Secretary Wiperman submitted his report in writing, or rather printed, form, which was distributed among the members present, and thus the reading of the report was dispensed with. It was found, however, that some of the company did not foot up properly, whereupon a kick was immediately registered. Investigation proved it to be a mistake of the printer instead of the secretary and peace was restored once more. After considerable explanation of the report to members of the company who did not understand the matter the question of electing directors for the coming year was taken up.

The election was made by ballot, and after several votes were cast it resulted in the choice of John A. Gaynor, D. D. Conway and H. Wiperman. The members previously elected by the council to represent the city's interest on the board were George M. Hill and Fred Bessert. Judge Gaynor read a communication from H. S. McFall of Oshkosh, who wanted to know if the plant was for sale, and also all the particulars of the concern, intimating that he would buy the place if the company wanted to sell. There seemed to be no disposition on the part of those present to sell out. Mr. Gaynor also spoke on the feasibility of hiring a man in conjunction with the Wood County Telephone company, the duty of said man to manage the business of both companies. Mr. Nash also spoke on the matter and gave it as his opinion that the company could keep a man busy if he attended to the business of the company as he should. Mr. Paulus also spoke on the feasibility of hiring one man to attend to the business of both companies, explaining how great saving could be effected to both companies. He is strongly in favor of the scheme, and there is no doubt in what there are some advantages in this method of managing the companies.

George Krueger spoke on the necessity of putting another engine at the plant to carry the day load without running the large engine now in use. While at the world's fair Mr. Krueger looked over everything in the machinery line that was worth noticing and among the engines he saw the Geisel engine. This is a motor operated by the use of crude petroleum, and if the claims of the manufacturers are true, it is a very economical concern to operate. The makers claim that electricity can be generated for three tenths of a cent per kilowatt, and the fact was demonstrated at the world's fair. It was Mr. Krueger's opinion that such an engine would prove economical for the local plant, and by running the engine day times when the load was at its lightest, a great saving could be made. The matter of putting in a new engine was not discussed at any length, as there are now two engines in the plant and most people consider that an engine is an engine, no matter what the make or design. This is a mistake, however, and when an engine is to be operated both day and night, it is to the advantage of the man who is buying the fuel to have one that is somewhere near the size that is needed, and also to have it of the most approved pattern.

The meeting had now extended well into the night, it being eleven thirty o'clock, and adjournment was taken. On Friday evening the directors of the Electric and Water company held a meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. This really made him feel as if he had done very well.

"Public Hygiene" was the subject of Dr. F. Pommerville's toast, and he gave an interesting talk on what is being accomplished along this line. Dr. C. A. Boorman told "Why Doctor's Disagree," giving both the ethical and financial side of the question.

"Harmony" was assigned to Rev. B. J. H. Shaw, but owing to the lateness of the hour that gentleman said only a few words and gave way to Rev. Staff, whose subject was "The Medical Value of a Laugh." It was evident that he believed in the virtue of a laugh, for he kept those present laughing much of the time during his talk.

This ended the evening's program and such a pleasant time had been passed, those present were loth to break up such a happy occasion. Some of our citizens who were present have suggested that the doctors give a banquet about once in two weeks during the winter months, as it is believed that they would be greatly appreciated by all.

located in the choice of John A. Gaynor for president, D. D. Conway for secretary and Geo. M. Hill for treasurer.

Ways and means were also discussed for the ensuing year and it was decided to hire a man to take charge of the entire business of the plant, with a view to conducting it on an economical basis and to give the people as good a service as possible with the means at hand. With this object in mind the directors interviewed G. H. Kondrat, recently of Augusta, who was an applicant for the position of manager of the plant, and they were so favorably impressed with his recommendations and ideas that a contract was made with him for one year. Mr. Kondrat comes highly recommended as an all around electrician and business man, and the directors feel that they have made a good choice.

There is no inclination on the part of the directors to make any radical changes from the system pursued by the company last year. The rate for consumption of electricity has recently been changed and made somewhat lower. It was 10 cents per kilowatt for the first ten, 10 cents for the second ten and 8 cents for the remainder of the electricity used on a meter. This has been changed to 10 cents for the first ten kilowatts and 8 cents for all current used over 10 kw.

H. Wiperman, who was elected one of the directors of the company, has resigned the position and E. P. Arpin has been chosen to take his place.

After the concert there will be a dance with music by the band. Everybody is invited to remain and enjoy themselves a few hours in dancing. The admission to the concert will be 25 cents and to the dance 50 cents.

The annual meeting of the Wisconsin State Horticultural society will be held at Madison on February 7th, 8th and 9th. The society offers a large number of premiums this year for fruit and an very entertaining program has been prepared. Secretary Cranfield writes the Tribune that some of the strong features of the program will be a paper by Judge Gaynor on "Marketing Fruit." Also a paper by Prof. J. G. Blair of the University of Illinois on "Cold Storage," and one by Prof. Sanderson of the University of Wisconsin on "Plant Breeding." The meeting promises to be an interesting one and should be attended by those who are interested in fruit culture. Reduced rates are given on all railroads.

Election of Officers.

The ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church, West Side, held their annual election of officers at the home of Mrs. E. B. Bowler, Jan. 4th. Following officers were elected:

- President—Mrs. Bert Brown.
- 1st vice president—Mrs. Frank Garrison.
- 2nd vice president—Mrs. C. E. Krueger.
- 3rd vice president—Mrs. S. M. Kyes.
- 4th vice president—Mrs. Minnie Palmatier.
- Secretary—Mrs. A. J. Damon.
- Treasurer—Miss Bell Voyer.

Tangle on Supervisor.

Geo. W. Brown, chairman of the county board, has received an opinion from the state tax commission regarding the election of a supervisor of assessment, which occurred at the last meeting of the county board. It is the opinion of the commission that Mr. McCamley could not be elected to the office owing to the fact that he held the office of supervisor. If he was not eligible it seems to be the opinion that Mr. Cochran still holds the job.

Basket Ball Game.

Next Saturday evening there will be a basket ball game at the gymnasium of the Lincoln high school between the Oshkosh Normal team and the team from this city. It is expected that this will be one of the best games that has been played in this city as the normal team is a good one and our local team has been putting in some hard practice. People who want to see a good game should not fail to be present.

HELPS FOR WOMEN.

Farmers' Wives and Daughters Invited to "House Keepers Conference" in Madison.

It comes this with the two week farmers' course in agriculture to be held at the University of Wisconsin, in Madison, from Feb. 14 to the 28th, that the department of household economics at the university will have a housekeepers' conference, to which are invited the women of the state, and especially the wives and daughters of those who attend the farmers' course.

The purpose of the conference is to furnish instruction and encourage discussion in subjects of interest connected with housekeeping. The new laboratories of the department of household economics in South Hall, which are just being completed, will be used for the demonstrations and lectures on foods and cooking. The work will be in charge of Mrs. Grace L. Hunt, professor of household economics, and Miss Huntington, instructor in the same department, who will be assisted by Professor W. H. Farrington, Sanderson, of the college of agriculture, Miss Lillian Crowe of Chalmers Hall, and Dr. Frank Verma, Mrs. Joseph Gledhill, and Mr. Reuben Thwaites of Madison.

The program will include a study lecture on food accompanied by a demonstration in cooking under the direction of Miss Huntington. There will also be a series of lectures on subjects connected with household management, including care and location of the home, water supply, house furnishing, care of children and gardening.

Those attending the conference will also be taken on tours of inspection, to the university dairy school, to see the latest methods of milking, cheese and butter, and of handling milk; to Chalmers Hall, where Mrs. Crowe has installed a modern cooking and laundry plant; as well as to lumber gardens, hospitals, and other places of interest.

Notice.

There are a large number of young men and boys who have formed the habit of loitering around the Green Bay and Western depot, in the conduct of house and around the premises generally, on Sundays, throwing snowballs, chewing, smoking and drinking at times, yelling, using all kinds of bad language, and disturbing every one in the neighborhood. These parties have no business about these premises on Sundays and I use this method of notifying them that this thing must be stopped or will be obliged to use more forcible means. A word to the wise is sufficient.

A. D. HILL, Agent G. B. & W. R. R. Co.

Law Firm Dissolved.

The law firm of Conway & Jeffrey has been dissolved by the mutual consent of the interested parties and the two gentlemen will practice law separately in this city. Mr. Conway will remain in the old office over the first National Bank and Mr. Jeffrey has engaged offices in the Markington block on the west side. Mr. Jeffrey has been practicing in this city long enough so that he has made a large number of friends and there is no question but what he will make a success of his business.

—Don't forget the concert and dance by the band next Tuesday evening, Jan. 11th.

Four eclipses are due in 1905. The first one will be of the moon and will occur on February 19th. It, however, will be invisible in the United States. The second one is of the sun, which takes place March 29th, and is also invisible in the United States. A partial eclipse of the moon, which occurs March 4th, will be visible in all parts of the United States. The fourth eclipse will eclipse them all. It is a total eclipse of the sun and will be visible in Canada and parts of the United States but by the time it reaches Grand Rapids the shadow will have passed and the sun will be at its full brilliancy.

Stockholders Meeting
The stockholders of the Wood County National Bank held their annual meeting and election of directors on Friday, which resulted as follows: The directors are Frank Garrison, T. E. Nash, E. Boninus, L. M. Alexander and F. J. Wood.
The officers are Frank Garrison, president; L. M. Alexander, vice president, and F. J. Wood, cashier.

At their meeting it was decided to purchase the building just north of the bank from the John Edwards estate in which is located the candy kitchen. They also expect to erect a building just west of the bank building which will be 28x50 feet and face on the street that leads from the bridge.

The lower story of this will be used for store purposes and the second story either for offices or whatever there is a demand for. The new building will be of solid brick.

Brown Picks La Follette.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Brown, who has just returned to Washington from his holiday vacation in Wisconsin, said today that it looked to him as if Senator Charles would be defeated and that Gov. La Follette would be elected as the next United States senator from Wisconsin. He was of the opinion that La Follette republicans would organize both branches of the legislature. Milwaukee Free Press.

Unclaimed Letters.
Fred Benson, Rev. A. W. Gam, E. A. Lemmans, Ernest Marth, Frank Matthews, W. H. Young, Maude Auelandson, Miss Anna Bayer, Tom Belot, Mrs. Olive Fournish, Mrs. Geo. Meiner, Mrs. C. A. Phelps.

Forged Check Passed
A woman whose name is unknown drew a check for $25 one day last week and signed the name of Mrs. A. F. Hamilton to it and succeeded in passing the paper on one of our local merchants. When the check was taken to the Wood County bank, however, the forgery was at once detected by Cashier Phillips, who refused to cash the paper. It is not known for a certainty who forged the check, but it is supposed to have been done by a woman who had stopped at the Hamilton house for a few days. Since the transaction she has succeeded in keeping out of the way of the officers of the law.

Later, Mrs. Augustine K. Pikeman was arrested in Kenosha on Monday as the person who had passed the forged check and was brought to this city by the officers of the law. When brought before Justice Cooper this afternoon she admitted that she was the person who had passed the check and the justice bound her over to the circuit court to await trial.

New Students
Since our last issue the following students have been enrolled at the Grand Rapids Business College: Mae Mulroy, Mammie Pagel, Kenneth McCamley, Frank Smith, Arthur Madison, Albert Nintz, Howard Crofton, Kate Kammerer and Andrew Waser. From the number of students that are starting in it is evident that the college will be a great success.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

Stevens Point Journal: A. J. Empey of Milwaukee, finding that his liabilities exceed his assets, has made a written proposition to them he admits that he is unable to pay his debts and offered to turn his property over to his creditors, to be managed and disposed of by them, the proceeds to be divided pro rata, the other alternative being that he will go into bankruptcy. A meeting of some of the creditors was held in this city last Thursday. The liabilities are said to be about $10,000 and the assets about $16,000. The creditors who met here represented about $16,000 of the liabilities and it was their judgment that the better plan for all concerned would be to take charge of the property. The other creditors will be communicated with, but in the meantime a committee consisting of F. B. McMillan of McMillan, E. M. Copes of this city and Mr. Lynch of Grand Rapids, has been appointed to take charge of the property. Empey's principal business interests at Milwaukee consist of a general store, a cheese factory and a stove mill.

Harry Holbrook died very suddenly Monday at a logging camp 20 miles north of Park Falls as the result of a blow on the head administered by a fellow worker during a quarrel. He died within 15 minutes after the blow was struck. The genuine was removed at once to his home at Park Falls and prepared for interment. They were then brought to Junction City, where funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon by Rev. W. J. Conway of Milwaukee. The body was brought to this city on the afternoon train Wednesday and interred in Forest cemetery direct from the train. The story of the unfortunate affair as told by those who witnessed it is to the effect that Harry and the other young men got into an argument on Sunday, New Year's day, and again took up the quarrel before breakfast Monday, though neither appeared to be very angry. However, Holbrook's adversary turned upon him suddenly, forced him against the wall and struck him on the head with a piece of lumber, a vicious blow. Harry fell to the floor unconscious and bled profusely from the mouth and nose and passed away in a few moments without regaining his senses. It is said that the young man has been placed under arrest and prosecution for some form of murder or manslaughter will probably result.—Stevens Point Journal.

Consumption and piles are twins. They kill people inch by inch, snap life away every day. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will positively cure you. No cure no pay. 35c tea or tablets. Johnson & Hill Co.

The funeral of Marion Reiman, the ten month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reiman, of 107 Superior avenue, who died Friday afternoon, Dec. 30, after a week's illness with pneumonia, was held at the residence Saturday afternoon by Rev. P. A. Nimis, the body being taken to Grand Rapids on Sunday for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Reiman and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Andrews accompanied the remains to Grand Rapids.—Stevens Point Journal.

Stevens Point Journal: County Judge Murat completed a quarter of a century as an officer at the court house Friday, which has been continuous service with the exception of one year. Judge Murat assumed his first duties as a county officer Jan. 6, 1880, serving nine years as register of deeds, and has been in the office of county judge 15 years.

Mrs. Jacob Vieker, who lives in the town of Linwood, Portage county, died at the home of her son, Adam, at Stevens Point on Wednesday as a result of an attack of syncope, a middle aged woman, was 75 years of age, was born in Poland and had been a resident of Linwood the past 30 years.

Sickening, Shivering Fits of Ague and Malaria can be relieved and cured with Electric Bitters. This is a pure tonic medicine; of especial benefit in malaria, for it exerts a true curative influence on the disease, driving it entirely out of the system. It is known to be preferred to Quinine, having none of this drug's bad after-effects. Write for my booklet, which is free. Low writes: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, till he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life." At Daily Drug & Jewelry Co. drug store; price 50c, guaranteed.
